The figure below shows areas for assessment at the individual, family, and community levels.

An assessment involves understanding the following:

1. Developmental needs of the child dependent on age and capacity;
2. Capacities of parents or caregivers to respond to the child’s needs; and
3. Impact of extended family and community on parenting capacity and children’s development.

---